REMOTE

DESIGNED FOR NATURAL
refrigerants

Remote refrigeration units are refrigeration units without a built-in cooling unit, primarily intended for large retail outlets. These units can be arranged side by side in any configuration, making them easy to integrate into any space.

DESIGNED FOR NATURAL
(hydrocarbons) refrigerants

Plug-in units are refrigerated cabinets with integrated cooling units, eliminating the need for additional refrigeration systems. They simply need to be installed at the desired location in the store and connected to the power supply.
